

On Her Majesty's Service

WASC1093

(ADDITIONAL COPY)

GUNPOWDER...

It consisteth of three essentiall ingredients:

- 1. BRIMSTONE, whose office is to catch fire and flame of a suddain, and convey it to the other two.
- 2. CHAR-COAL pulveriz'd, which continueth the fire, and quencheth the flame, which otherwise would consume the strength thereof.
- 3. SALT-PETRE, which causeth a windy exhalation, and driveth forth the bullet.

Thomas Fuller

The Worthies of England, 1662

GUNPOWDER...

It consisteth of three essentiall ingredients:

- 1. BRIMSTONE, whose office is to catch fire and flame of a suddain, and convey it to the other two.
- 2. CHAR-COAL pulveriz'd, which continueth the fire, and quencheth the flame, which otherwise would consume the strength thereof.
- 3. SALT-PETRE, which causeth a windy exhalation, and driveth forth the bullet.

Thomas Fuller

The Worthies of England, 1662